How much money we lost: a lot

Basically, after over leveraging all our assets to purchase enormous quantities of “Beluga-Coin” we had to pay immense restitution as the coin apparently doesn’t exist and so we have essentially made negative money which means we now are in immense debt. We have considered liquidating our assets to recoup maximum shareholder value, but most of our stuff can’t fit into a blender so we’re currently uncertain about how to move forward with liquidation.

We’ve done some machine learning to determine where our financials are at as seen in the below chart:

“We’ve been trying to contact you about your car’s extended warranty” wait how do I delete that, I didn’t
